DANBURY

BEERS & SCHMIDT, Coal, Wood. Etc.. No. 2 Elm Street.—

One of the most noted and prosperous concerns identified with the trade in coal and wood is that of Messrs. Beers & Schmidt. This business was inaugurated about twenty years ago. and since its inception it has been managed with marked ability and success, and it is to-day the leading house in this line of business in the city. The office is neatly appointed, and the yard is heavily stocked with anthracite and bituminous coals, and hard and softwoods. The premises are fully equipped with everything that can facilitate the handling of the large quantities of material daily received, and fifteen hands are employed at all seasons. The most favorable receiving and shipping facilities are possessed, and a specialty is made of catering to the family trade. Only the best grades of coal are handled, and these are purchased direct from the mines, and carefully screened and freed from slate and dirt before weighing. The trade is the largest in the city, and is steadily and constantly increasing. Wood is sawn and cut to any desired size and length on the premises, and the lowest market rates are invariably charged. The proprietors have an enviable reputation for the liberality which characterizes their dealings and the strict integrity of their methods. Mr. David Beers, who is a native of Roxbury, Conn., conducted the business alone for twelve years. In 1890 he admitted into partnership Mr. Schmidt, who is a native of Germany and who has resided in Danbury a dozen years.

AT R. HATCH & SON'S.

Business has been brisk at the carriage shop of R. Hatch & Son's, this season, and as usual, they have turned out some fine work. They are now engaged on finishing a fine bakery wagon for Cole Brothers of Carmel, N. Y. They have also turned out a heavy business wagon for Schmidt & Seifert, coal dealers, of Danbury. Their work is built to stay. Every wagon sent out is an advertisement for them.

Ocala Evening Star February 4, 1915

Bellevue:

...Mr. and Mrs. Lewis [sic] Schmidt and their daughter Mrs. T. Clark Hull of Danberry, [sic] Conn. have taken the Mendell cottage for the winter. Mr. Schmidt is a retired business man and is charmed with the rustic beauty of our town...

Ocala Evening Star February 25, 1915

Bellevue:

...Mr. and Mrs. T. Clark Hull, after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Lou Schmidt, left on train No. 4 last Wednesday for Jacksonville, where they will take the steamer for New York City and thence on to Danbury, Conn., their home...

Ocala Evening Star March 11, 1915

Bellevue:

...Mr. Lou Schmidt went down to Smith Lake to catch some fish and he did not...

Ocala Evening Star March 23, 1915

Bellevue:

...A jolly house party to North Lake Weir the past week occupying the Connor cottages was Mr. and Mrs. Lou Schmidt of Danbury, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cogswell of Fairfield Beach, Conn., and on two different days Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White of Pittsburgh, Pa., with the misses Mae and Margaret joined the party. Fishing was the main excitement. Mr. Schmidt enthused like a schoolboy, and when leaving time came he had to be watched to keep him from stealing the water in the lake. Mr. Cogswell declared that he knew the fishing in Lake Weir was better than the fishing in Smith Lake, and to see the girls hook their first fish was worth a dime a piece. This past week will go down in history with the whole bunch as a very momentous one...

...Mrs. E. W. White and Mrs. Lou Schmidt made a business trip to Ocala one day last week, going up in Mr. Haviland's big car.

Ocala Evening Star April 5, 1915

Bellevue:

...Bill Cogswell went "a fishin'" the other day down in Little Lake Weir. That plate glass headlight that he wears in his bosom dazzled an old time denizen of the deep and he got so flustered that he run full tilt into the hooks and with careful handling was landed in the boat. On one of the store scales he struck the balance at eight pounds, sixteen and three quarter ounces. Mr. Cogswell was bewailing the fate that Lou Schmidt did not catch him when he was here, but has marked the spot and next year they will go right there and catch another one...

Ocala Evening Star October 26, 1916

Bellevue:

...A charming letter from Mrs. Lou Schmidt at Danbury, Conn., states that they will be with us sometime about the first of the year. This will be good news to their many friends and especially when it is known their daughter, Miss Kathryn will accompany them; and when they arrive and Lou Schmidt comes out of the house early in the morning and thumps his heavy walking cane on the pavement, Sniglefoot and Dixie will break their necks getting to where they heard that thump, and they will all go rabbit hunting together; and Sniglefoot will once more become a family pensioner on the bounties of the Schmidt family...

The Ocala Evening Star January 6, 1918

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt from Danbury, Conn. are anticipating a visit from their daughter, Mrs. T. Clark Hull, and also from their son who is at Yale and who will soon enter an officer's training camp preparatory to seeing service in France.

The Ocala Evening Star February 13, 1918

Mr. Louis is building him the most substantial cottage in town, it is two stories high and boasts plenty of windows and doors and will boast of having the first connection to the new water works now being completed. Mr. Schmidt is lucky on having a force of mechanics like the one making a noise around his house. When Mr. John Haines, Jim Shedd, and Tom Hames work together it is a team hard to beat.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clark Hull, the baby and Mrs. Hull's mother came in the other day from Danbury, Conn. and will visit with the Hull's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt.

The Ocala Evening Star April 2, 1918

Fifteen or twenty pleasure seekers, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt, Mrs. F. A. Hull, Mrs. T. Clark Hull, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. White spent last Tuesday at one of the Connor cottages at North Lake Weir, fishing, bathing and boating. The day was fine, the water was wet, the fish bit freely, and there was plenty to eat. Mr. John Bickford and Mr. Frank Gale were kept busy carrying picnickers to the lake – to and fro.

The Ocala Evening Star April 5, 1918

Mr. Louis Schmidt's house is just about finished. Mr. Sands Haviland is putting on the finishing touches. Mr. Schmidt's son is at the officers' training camp at Camp Devens, Mass., and Mr. Schmidt is some disappointed that his course of studies and training will not finish in time to permit him a trip to Bellevue before assuming regular army duties.

The Ocala Evening Star April 18, 1918

The northern visitors are leaving one after another. Mrs. C. B. Bates left last week and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fisher left Wednesday for their home in Bridgeport Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt leave this Thursday for Danbury, Conn., and others are planning.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt have received word that their son, who was in the Devens, Mass. officer's training camp has received his orders and gone across.

The Ocala Evening Star March 18, 1920

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt received the sad news Saturday of the illness of their son, Louis jr. and left Sunday for their home in Connecticut. Their daughter, Mrs. Clark Hull and little son will return with them. Mr. Schmidt visited his parents here last winter and made many friends who regret to hear of his illness and hope for his recovery.

The Ocala Evening Star November 11, 1920

Miss Mary Powers has had her house wired for electric light service, and so has her next door neighbor, Miss Sarah Bosworth. Mr. Louis Schmidt is next in line and says he has to have those good Bellevue electric lights to add to the comforts of his attractive little winter home.

New Quota Plan Will Be Applied to Men in Second Draft.

Washington, April 30—Provost Marshal General Crowder today requested congress to eliminate from the bill extending the draft to youths now 21 years old, the amendment putting at the bottom of the eligible list those who would register under the measure and asked that the bill basing draft quotas on the number of men in class one be amended to operate retroactive.

Gen. Crowder made his request in letters to the chairmen of the senate and house military committees.

Of the proposal to put the new registrants at the bottom of the list on eligibles Gen. Crowder said:

"The plan proposed by this office would result in these registrants being given order numbers scattered throughout the entire list of order numbers. This seems to be fairer than the plan proposed by the amendment. The result of the house amendment in many jurisdictions will be to delay the calling of these young men for a considerable time. In the meantime their status will have changed, they will have married or become integrated with the industries of the country.

"Moreover, it establishes a precedent which may be appealed to pro-

THE RYE CHRONICLE

PRAISES OFFICER SCHINDO

Editor Rye Chronicle:

It was with a great deal of satisfaction that I read the news item that Police Officer Leonard Schindo had been reinstated in the Rye Police Force.

I believe few people in Rye realize the remarkable job that Officer Schindo performed at night, through winter and summer, in controlling speeding traffic on the Post Road from the Mamaroneck line to the Port Chester line.

Before Officer Schindo assumed his special assignment, gigantic trucks would speed through the City at rates of from 50 to 70 miles an hour causing any number of bad accidents. In one particular case, a man was killed by one truck and his body run over by two following trucks before anyone could carry it to safety.

Whether or not Officer Schindo is reassigned to his former special duties, the reputation which he has already built up among all operators of motor cars on the Post Road will go a long way toward a continuation of safe and sane driving on this thoroughfare.
